

GEFA webbing for securing crowns

Our hollow ropes and webbing for securing the crown are made from state-of-the-art synthetic fibers (polyamide, polyester, Dyneema). The effective breaking loads of our hollow ropes are significantly higher than the values given in the catalogue.

The belts and ropes, including indicator and material identification threads, are subject to a wide variety of external influences (e.g. UV radiation, moisture, air pollution, etc.) outside of our sphere of influence. For this reason, no material claims or claims for defects can be derived from the following replacement recommendation. In accordance with our General Terms and Conditions, the statutory material liability/liability for defects applies.

According to the current state of knowledge, we recommend replacing the belts and hollow ropes after 8 years. We give a warranty of 8 years for the GEFA straps, provided they have been processed according to our installation recommendations.

In addition, the following disclaimer applies: The manufacturer declares an exclusion of liability, in particular for any damage caused by improper handling, external influences on the product, misuse, force majeure and lack of maintenance and control.
